

Khayelitshe House

MATOBO HILLS, ZIMBABWE

A SECLUDED RETREAT IN MATOBO HILLS

Bordering the Matobo National Park, the exclusive-use villa draws its name from the local Ndebele language, 'Ekhaya' and 'Litshe', Home in the Rocks. Hidden amongst the ancient granite boulders, the villa seamlessly blends with the majestic landscape, offering four en-suite suites with breathtaking views of the iconic balancing rocks. With a minimum two-guest policy, once booked, the villa becomes a private sanctuary, fully staffed with a private chef, host, and guide.

The Matobo Hills have been recognized as a UNESCO World Heritage Site owing to their exquisite natural beauty and immense spiritual significance. Led by their private guide, guests can uncover the rich history of Zimbabwe by exploring the Khami Ruins, discovering ancient cave paintings, and hiking to Rhodes' Grave. Wildlife enthusiasts will be thrilled to encounter the Park's thriving rhino population, along with a diverse array of birdlife.
